London Pet Butler-TEXAS Promotes Pet First Aid Awareness

London Pet Butler-TEXAS has its certification from Pet Tech®, the first international training center dedicated to CPR, First Aid & Care for dogs and cats.

According to the American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) 1-out-of-4 more pets would survive, if just one pet first aid technique was applied prior to getting emergency veterinary care.

The hands-on training involved in certification included restraining & muzzling a pet in pain, primary assessment in the first 1-25 seconds, rescue breathing, canine & feline CPR, choking management, bleeding & shock management, heat & cold injuries, and seizures, among other urgent care matters.

“We’re proud to hold this certification, recognizing that our pets are as susceptible to injuries, illness, and old-age needs as any of our people loved ones,” says London Pet Butler -TEXAS founder Sharon Marsh-Wyly.

“As many of our clients’ pets are elderly or, at some time in their lives, any pet can be sick and shut-in, we’re pleased to be able to attend to their special needs.”
